

Young Scientists Program 2003 (YSP)

In Birmingham and in Montreal, in conjunction with the IUBMB Congresses held in 2000 and 2003, young scientists were encouraged to apply for fellowships to cover a major part of their travel and living expenses.

Around 100 fellows were selected from the applicants by a Committee. These young scientists were invited to attend both the IUBMB Congress and a special meeting where they could describe their research work via a poster or an oral presentation and discuss their results.

The list of young scientists invited to Montreal in 2003 (see below) shows an interesting balance in research experience (Ph.D. students vs. post-doctoral fellows), gender and geographical origin. For many of them it was the first international meeting they had a chance to attend.

Considering the success of this program, a YSP will also be organized in conjunction with the IUBMB Congress 2006 in Kyoto. Details will be posted on this website in late 2005.

Support for the Young Scientists Program in Montreal was provided by the Lars Ernster Travel Fund of IUBMB, and also by general funds from IUBMB and PABMB.
